* These funding sources ended with the 2001-02 fiscal year. No new funds have been allocated since then, but local educational agencies may have carried over funds from previous years.

After the governing board certifies that all students have been provided with standards-aligned textbooks or basic instructional materials in reading/language arts, mathematics, science, and history-social science, then the district may use remaining IMFRP funds to purchase from state-adopted lists in other subject areas.

 The State Board of Education delayed adoption of foreign language materials until 2003, after the completion of the foreign language framework. Schools may continue to use their K-8 IMF to purchase foreign language materials that were adopted in 1990 (if these materials are still available from the publisher) until the next foreign language adoption scheduled for December 2003.
